HARDING DELAYS HIS DEBT FUND MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, February 6.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding decided today to postpone until tomorrow at least his message to congress asking for modification of the debt funding law to permit final approval of the funding settlement recently negotiated with Great Britain.

Those who conferred with Mr. Harding on the subject during the day predicted that he would be ready to act by tomorrow and that he would send his statement to the capital by messenger instead of appearing personally to deliver it at a joint session.

CAPITOL JOKES

By Peter F. Tague
U. S. Representative From Massachusetts, Tenth District

HERE is nothing like being perfectly sure of yourself and content with your environment. I've always liked the story of the lady from Down East who, while motoring, saw a sign reading:

TAQ. U. S. FROM BOSTON.

"I'm from Boston," she read it aloud. "I'm from Boston. How simple! How sufficient!"

Compromise Reached

LONDON, February 6.—(By the Associated Press)—A provisional compromise has been reached between the Lithuanian government and the entente ministers at Kovno for the regulation of the situation in Memel pending decision of that territory's future by the League of Nations, says the diplomatic correspondent of the Telegraph today. The writer adds that probably a neutral zone will be created.

Sentenced For Life

CLEVELAND, O., February 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Fred Goetting, confessed slayer of Harry Kohn, Cleveland hardware dealer, on January 6, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge Phillips today. At the request of County Prosecutor E. C. Stanton the court decreed that Goetting spend the sixth day of every month in solitary confinement.

Skins Are Lower

MONTREAL, February 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Skunk, raccoon and opossum skins were from ten to twenty per cent lower at the opening sales today of the midwinter fur auction as compared with the prices brought last September. Only mink, bear and squirrel skins were unchanged.

Total sales brought $350,000.

Mrs. Poindexter Stirrs Hornet's Nest

Mrs. Miles Poindexter, wife of the defeated United States Senator from Washington, has stirred up a hornet's nest in Washington by her public revelations of official secrets, in which she named wives of cabinet secretaries as using Government automobiles, having the Marine Band play for them and getting flowers from Government conservatories. One of the women most stirred up is Mrs. James G. Davis, wife of the Secretary of Labor, who is said by Mrs. Poindexter to have used Government automobiles on her shopping expeditions.

Michigan Studies Riled Up Over Dry Agents' Plan To Visit "Hop"

ANN ARBOR, MICH., February 6.—(By the Associated Press)—A protest to the federal prohibition enforcement director at Detroit against announced plans to send two operatives to the University of Michigan "J. Hop" Friday night was in prospect today. Faculty and students alike were stirred by the report that liquor agents planned to mingle with the guests at the university's leading social event, and the implication that the dry laws might be infringed.

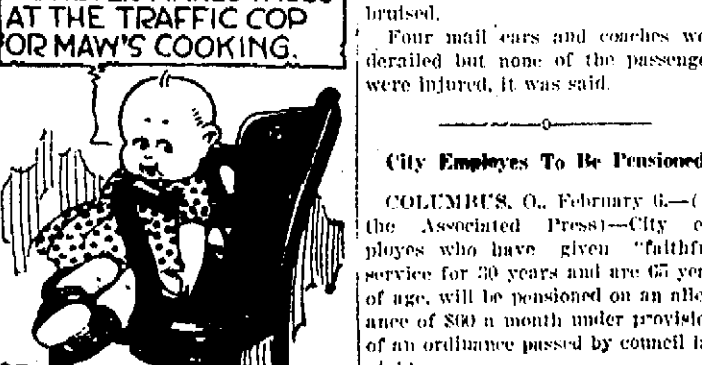

Kohler Attacks Official; Roberts Quits Post

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 6.—(By the A. P.)—Public utilities director Arthur B. Roberts and his first assistant, George W. Knelsky, resigned their city jobs this morning as the direct result of the verbal outburst directed at them by Mayor Kohler before yesterday's meeting of the board of control in criticizing Roberts' handling of his department and Kohler's refusal according to Roberts to make public apology for the attack.

Ottomans To Accept All Peace Terms

LONDON, Feb. 6.—France has notified Great Britain that the Ottoman delegation at Lausanne has agreed to sign all the peace terms.

The Turks' decision to accept all the terms which they rejected Sunday was communicated to the French foreign office and immediately forwarded to Downing Street.

The French government urges Great Britain that the affair be settled immediately in the interests of all the allies generally and of France herself in particular.

The French ambassador visited the British foreign office this afternoon for the government's answer.

Reuters' Ltd., quoting a French source says it is confirmed in well informed quarters that the Turks made Marquis Curzon proposals for a separate peace between Turkey and Great Britain. No official details are available.

GERMANS DETERMINED TO RESIST TO THE LAST

BERLIN, February 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Chancellor Cuno returned to Berlin today from a two-day tour of the occupied Ruhr area convinced, he said, that the determination of the population to resist the French coercive measures was just as firm today as when the first of the occupying forces entered Essen on January 11.

to the Art of the Screen

"The Eternal Flame"

Old France's gayest courts—the rendezvous for love, intrigue, clandestinity. Happy hunting grounds for the gorgeous Duchesse de Langeais, a loyal wife until her husband wavered on her faith—then court beauty, coquette, lost to love, stifling the Eternal Flame. But her beauty was made to be besieged. A nation's idol demanded it. Yet still she would dog the right and power to love—until too late. Die! What a drama! With art incomparable Norma Talmadge has carried her portrayal of sublimity. Who dares to bound or trammel it? A mighty picture—a masterpiece if ever the screen achieved one—rich, ecstatic with the spirit of de Balzac's celebrated "Duchesse de Langeais." Adapted by Mignon Fairfax. Directed by Frank Lloyd.

SOCIETY

At the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary held last night, it was unanimously decided to bring the Oberlin Dramatic Association, of Oberlin College, here for a concert on the evening of April third. The Oberlin Dramatic Association recently made a holiday tour of over 2,000 miles, going as far east as Boston, Mass., and playing ten engagements with great success. The evening's entertainment consists of three modern one-act comedies of a high order. To such an entertainment, and coming the week after Easter, the Auxiliary feels that the people of Portsmouth will be ready to give them a cordial welcome. Local interest is attached to this entertainment since Miss Lillian Matthews, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Matthews, of "Three Oaks," is a popular member of the Dramatic Association, and made the trip East with them during the holiday season.

The meeting of the King's Daughters and Sons of Trinity church, announced for this evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph Donaldson, 2019 Twenty-first street, has been postponed until Friday evening, when it will be held at the home of Mrs. Donaldson. Her assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Newton Rice, Mrs. George Wear and the Misses Jennie Heid and Nettie Pray.

Mrs. Harry Flowers will welcome the members of the Qui Vive Club at her home, 1065 Grant street, tomorrow afternoon.

MARVELS OF SURGERY

EXTRACTING tonsils and cutting out appendixes still have a prominent place on the daily schedule of surgeons, but in recent years operations so amazingly difficult that they are thought impossible increase and multiply like mosquitoes. Already announcements of success in difficult cases have been relegated from the first to the inside pages of the newspapers, and soon they may be so common as to be of little value as news.

In New Jersey a physician, using only a local anesthetic, transfers an eye from a pig to a youth; an Ohio woman is having the end of her nose, bitten off by her husband, restored; and in Pittsburgh a Boy Scout gives a considerable amount of skin to be grafted upon his father. These are a few instances in what seems to be an endless series.

Plastic surgery was put to a severe test during and after the World War. Multitudes of scarred bodies of soldiers were patched, and restored to almost normal appearance. In numerous cases, indeed, it is claimed that an improvement was made on the original, and it is true that many uninjured persons have submitted to operations simply to increase the symmetry of face or figure. The wise man, however, will heed the words of the chorus girl who told a surgeon "It is death to be bowlegged in the chorus, but it is better to be bowlegged than dead."

Nevertheless, marvelous progress in this most difficult science tantalizes the imagination. Perhaps some day the anorak can remove his head before retiring, and send his feet to the manicurist while he is engaged in important conferences at the office.

You Are Right, Mr. Editor, But—

You have failed to mention a very important case of plastic surgery — that of the one performed on Bud Doyle, the hero of Thos. H. Ince's great picture "SKIN DEEP" showing all this week at the

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Escorted by the cowboys of Paradise ranch, Val attends the Fourth of July celebration at Santa Leandra. VELANTRIE from the Border, while dancing with LOLA SANCHEZ, is shot at by a jealous snail. Val saves Velantrie's life by causing the snail to go wild.

During the celebration at Santa Leandra the fearless Redstar disappears from Paradise. Val is heartbroken and rides for consolation to the Mission to see her friend, FATHER HILLARIE.

She finds Velantrie at the Mission visiting with Father Hillarie.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
The wistful look in the stranger's eyes deepened with a sort of swift sickness and he picked up his hat.

"I'll go," he said gently, but the father shook his head.

"Stay until she leaves," he said desperately. "We've had little speech together."

Not for all the poor treasures of his humble house would Father Hillarie have had Velantrie's whistle cut the quiet air, have been the Comet come trotting down beneath the hanging trees.

So Velantrie stood and watched while Val came and sat in one of the ancient chairs and put the baby on her knee to play with its rose-leaf fingers and touch with understanding hands its little waxen cheeks.

"It's a beautiful baby, padre," she said, wisely regarding the infant, "a darling bundle of sweetness. But I think with you that Maria is not so well. The cough persists."

"I know," said the father anxiously, "and I have tried all my remedies in vain. She sickens for the sight of that worthless one for whom she has never ceased to mourn."

"If I had hold of him," said Val with sudden swift viciousness, "I'd kill him!"

"My daughter!" said the priest sharply, and the girl blushed. But Velantrie smiled as he dropped into a chair across the little open space

TODAY I AM REAL WELL

So Writes Woman After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Jamestown, N. Y. — "I was nervous, easily excited and discouraged and had no ambition. Part of the time I was not able to sit up as I suffered with pains in my back and with weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, both the liquid and tablet forms, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sana-Five Wash for inflammation. Today I am real well and run a rooming house and do the work. I recommend your medicine to every woman who complains, and you may use my letter to help any one else. I am passing through the Change of Life now and I keep the Vegetable Compound in the house, ready to take when I feel the need of it." — Mrs. ALICE D. DAVIS, 203 W. Second St., Jamestown, N. Y.

Often some slight derangement may cause a general upset condition of the whole system, indicated by such symptoms as nervousness, backache, lack of ambition and general weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine for such troubles. In many cases it has removed the cause of the trouble.

DECLARES HE FEELS SAME AS NEW MAN

"I'm not surprised that Tanlac is called the 'World's Greatest Tonic' for it has set me to feeling like a new man," recently said John H. Brown, 2534 Washington Ave., Cleveland, O.

"My troubles were treating me pretty rough before I got Tanlac. My appetite lost its edge, my digestion stalled on me, and there was no gas, sourness and burning in my stomach after every meal. Headaches, backaches and dizzy spells bobbed up and put me on the rack repeatedly. I couldn't half sleep, and mornings I felt so bad it was hard for me to peel off my coat and get down to work."

"Well, I took Tanlac to put me back in shape and three bottles just half the full treatment, has made me feel like a man made over. I can pull and tug like a two-year-old now, and I never pass an opportunity to tell others about this great medicine."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

of the sanded walk.

"Suppose," he said in the low voice that was sweet with music, "that some one brought him back sealed, under pain of death, to be good to Maria and the church here? Would that please you?"

"More than anything in all this world!" cried Val impulsively, "except—"

But she broke the speech and glanced at Father Hillarie.

"It would be a holy work," she finished gently, "and I should be very glad."

"Then," said Velantrie, still smiling, "it shall be done. Who is the man, padre, and from where did he leave this part of the country?"

"It is only a peon from down by Argueta across the line by the name of Moscos Pecuento, and he melted into the west somewhere. It is a heavy promise you make, my son."

"But one I shall be glad to redeem," answered Velantrie.

Val looked at him with deep eyes that were sweet with a new depth and a sort of wonder. This stranger that she had begun to meet talked quietly of big deeds and was quick as running waters. She thought of his acceptance of Lolo's challenge that night in Santa Leandra and how swiftly he had caught her meaning.

So she played with the baby and listened to the quiet talk of the two men and the summer day drowsed toward its close, and the stranger stared as if he did not mean to leave.

Bonifacio brought Lightning, and Velantrie looked at him with keen eyes. Always this man looked at horses. On the range, in the streets of the scattered towns, everywhere, it was horseflesh for which he searched untiringly. An expression of admiration passed across his speaking face.

"That is a beautiful horse, Miss Hannon," he said, "a swift horse, too, I know."

Val smiled.

"The swiftest in the country," she said proudly, "better than Cledennin's Dollar. Better than all others, except one."

At that slight reference to the lost Redstar her features clouded—and Father Hillarie felt the sweat start on his flesh.

But she said no more and held out her hand.

"Goodby, father. I'll come again, soon."

Then she turned and, with an appearance of timidity that sat oddly on Val Hannon, held out the same hand to Velantrie. Again the man took it and again the father saw that unconscious eagerness in both young faces.

When the girl was gone, sailing like a kite in the winds across the reaches of the green plain, he wiped his face and the lines seemed to have been graven a trifle deeper therein, as if he felt a prelude of disaster.

CHAPTER X
Val Calls

JOHN HANNON stood in the deep room where the Indian blankets glowed and held his wife in the bend of his arm. His face was a strange mixture of conflicting emotions. A veritable sickness of parting sat upon it and his dark eyes burned upon Belle's sightless face with such a passion of love as rarely lasts beyond the fires of youth.

He kissed her again and again and studied the curve of her faded cheek, the curls of soft hair at her temples. And Belle's expert fingers passed over his features, "reading" his face before departure. When he was gone she would drop in a chair and weep like a schoolgirl, but she said him now when John departed.

"And when, John dear?" she asked anxiously, "will you be back this time? Will it be as long a trip as the last one?"

The man raised his eagle's head and looked out through the window across the plains. What visions he saw none might know, but his eyes deepened and glowed and he smoothed her hair absently.

Presently he came back to the answer.

"No," he answered bravely, "and so long this time."

Then he kissed her again, motioned to Val to come and take her with an imperious nod of his head, put her gently in the girl's arms and was gone.

Paradise settled into a sort of pleasant lethargy after the departure of the master. Belle Hannon was already sinking of the time when her husband should return, and Val spent many hours looking lazily in the gay-fringed hammock. She was her old self again in sweetness, in her eager care for all the creatures of the household and the ranch, but deep down in her heart she did not cease to mourn for the vanished Redstar. Sometimes at sundown she would cup her hands to her lips and, giving the two keen long drawn whistles, listen wistfully as if from somewhere in the far fringes of the Blind Trail Hills she must catch the fine faint echo of his ringing answer.

But always the vast silence of the limitless land was unbroken, and Belle coming in from the dust and drouth of a long day's ride would look at her piningly.

The days passed and the master had been gone a fortnight when one day Boyce Cledennin rode in on Dollar.

Val, seeing him from afar, met him in the patio with smiles, all fresh clad in a starched print dress. In honest fairness she must accord him respect. She did not dislike him, either, when it came down to cases, for Boyce Cledennin was very much a man in a land where men must be all of that to prosper.

"Hello, Boyce," she greeted him, laying an admiring hand on Dollar's silver shoulder, "this is a treat—you coming so far to see us. Or were you going by?"

"Hardly," said the man, swinging down to take off his hat and extend his hand, "I came because I wanted to."

As Val led Cledennin into the depths of the cool old room Belle Hannon rose with the manner of a duchess and smiled toward the sound of their approach. The man had heard of John Hannon's blind wife—who in the rangeland had not?—but he had never seen her. Now he looked at the delicate beauty of her face, its quick, receptive intelligence, its high mark of character, and knew why her daughter was as far above the other girls of the country as the clouds above the grass.

He took Belle's hands, both of them, with a sudden pleasant liking, which communicated itself instantly to the vibrant brain behind the hands, and the two were friends at once.

"This is Boyce Cledennin," said Val, and the man felt a strange surprise at the girl's use of her mother's first name. He was to learn that that was one of their playful intimacies which made the friendship of this mother and daughter so rare and so perfect.

"I know," said Mrs. Hannon, "you are the man John Hannon likes above all others among the ranchers, therefore you are good and worthy of regard. I shall like you, too."

Cledennin laughed, tossed his hat away and sat down to a long and comfortable visit.

But finally the conversation drifted, as all speech must in the rangeland, to cattle and finally to rustlers.

"I suppose you've heard that the Flying Y's had trouble?" he asked idly.

"No," said Val at once. "What?"

"Lost eighty head of fat steers ready for the driving."

"Good gracious! How?"

"Rustlers again. Drove them through the Needle's Eye into the Blind Trails. Trail was broad as daylight up to the face of the cliff, then of course it narrowed and was lost on the rock, for the pass into the hills is so narrow that only two steers can enter at the same time. The owners trailed their cattle there—to face two rifles sticking out on either side of the pass, a perfect guard. No man's life enough to deliberately give his life for a bunch of steers, so they went quietly back to the ranch. But the country's buzzing, you bet, and I'm with it heart and soul."

Val's dark eyes flashed, for she thought of her own loss, word of which had been noised about the country.

Some Of The Best Things Come In "Small Packages"

That is an old saying, and it holds true in regard to newspaper features just the same as in other things.

For instance, there is the "Abe Martin" feature on the Editorial page of The Times daily. It is known, read and enjoyed all over the country, and appeals to all classes of readers.

On the first page of The Times each day you will find Hambone, and his meditations. They represent the highest development of droll wit. On the same page are Baby Mine, something new but none the less enjoyable on that account, and Billy Butt In, who has become synonymous with "weather" in the Portsmouth community. All of these features appear daily, don't miss them.

And they are only a few of the many features that go to make the Portsmouth Times one of the progressive newspapers of the country.

Movement Started For Little Theatre Here; Meeting Called For Thursday

A general organization meeting to help establish the "Little Theatre" movement in Portsmouth has been called for the High School on Thursday evening at half past seven of all interested persons have been asked to attend.

The Little Theatre movement offers many and varied recreation opportunities for everyone concerned and is inaugurated under the auspices of the Bureau of Community Service.

Today there are over three hundred of these "little theatres" scattered over the United States, and Ohio has ten of these groups. Four of these organizations are in Cincinnati, two in Cleveland and others are in Akron, Granville, Oxford and Middletown. Contrary to most artistic movements, which commence in New York, the little theatre was originated at Hull House, Chicago some twenty years ago.

In Portsmouth, one of the points which will be especially emphasized will be the importance of citizens' public celebrations such as are carried on in extensive fashion in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. In all, it is expected that a comprehensive plan of public recreation and entertainment, such as Portsmouth has needed for a long time will be at last put on a substantial footing.

Excellent Leaders For Young People's Week Program

Mrs. Edwin Pocock of Columbus, and Rev. J. Chester White of Jackson, who are to be the leaders of a series of meetings for young people to be held this week in the Second Presbyterian church will arrive in the city tonight.

Mrs. Pocock, a graduate of Wooster College, is the wife of Rev. E. W. Pocock, assistant pastor of the Broad street Presbyterian church, Columbus. She comes to Portsmouth highly recommended both by the Ohio State Sunday School Association and by the Presbyterian Synod of Ohio, as being one of the best young people's leaders in the state.

Mrs. Pocock will have charge of the girls' work for the week and her coming insures an interesting week for the young ladies of Second church.

Rev. White who is pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Jackson, is one of the outstanding young people's workers of the Synod of Ohio.

He was for years head of the Intermediate work of the Christian Endeavor Union of California, and went into the pastorate after a long service as a Christian Endeavor worker.

He is an accomplished pianist and possesses an interesting personality. While in the city Mrs. Pocock will be the guest at the home of Mrs. Grace L. Goodwin of Fourth street and Rev. White will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lloyd of Fifth street.

The first meeting of the week will be held tonight at the church. The leaders of the young people in the Sunday School and Christian Endeavor societies will meet with Mrs. Pocock and Rev. White for a conference concerning the work of the week.

Tomorrow night, at 7:15 the young people will meet for the opening rally, with the two special speakers in charge.

Thursday night a "Martha Washington" banquet will be held for the girls and their older sisters and mothers, and Friday night a banquet will be held for the boys and their older brothers and fathers.

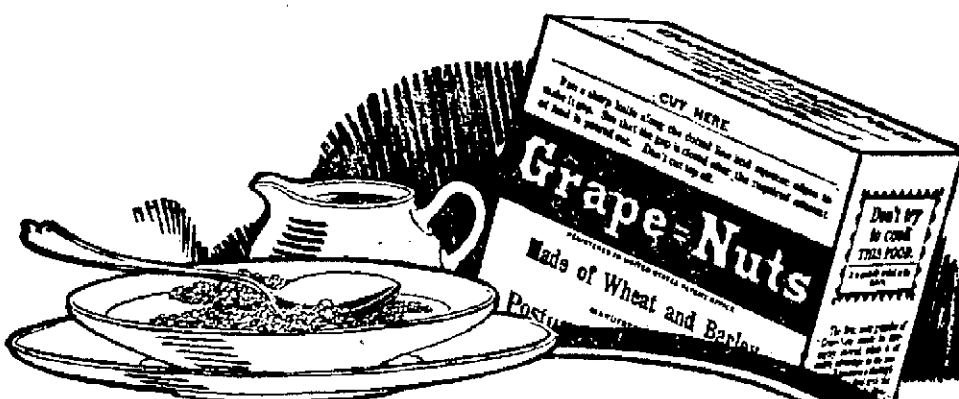

There will be no service on Saturday, Sunday all of the services of the church will be devoted to young people's work.

Plan For Dance

A short business meeting of Progressive Camp Royal Neighbors, was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. M. L. Deatley, 1521 Sixth street. Plans for a dance to be given next Tuesday night at the regular meeting in Ben Hur hall were completed, with Miss Estelle Deatley as chairman of the committee. Two petitions for membership were received and two applicants, Hattie Parker and Miller Deatley, were obligated.

Fate Of Clara Phillips Hangs
On Delivery Of Phil Alquin

EL PASO, TEXAS, February 6.—(By the United Press)—The fate of Clara Phillips, "hammer murderess," now hiding in Chihuahua, hangs on delivery of "Little Phil" Alquin, dope pedler and alleged slayer of Detective Sergeant John T. Fitzgerald, to the hands of American authorities, officials here believed today. "Little Phil" is now reported aboard an American petroleum company tanker due to arrive in Galveston today. "If 'Little Phil' is landed, Herbert and Fernando Uribe, charged with possessing a stolen auto, will be tried Chief of Police Oakes, three months ago promised the boys' father, Dr. J. B. Uribe, sanitary inspector of El Paso, and Herbert's wife, Catherine, that should "Little Phil" be left across the border, the two boys would be free unconditionally, and Catherine's ten thousand dollars worth of diamonds left as bail, be returned to her. Barring slips in the present plans the freeing of the boys will be the signal for Clara's arrest. Official investigators, government agents, police and soldiers of fortune gathered here interested in the "tiger woman" hunt become more convinced daily that the little doctor sitting in his room at the hospital, holds the key to the situation. He firmly believes he made no idle boast when he declared that he has Clara under surveillance at the present time and he will deliver her to show Americans that he keeps his word. He is frankly interested in one thing only, the release of his boys. He is taking no chances on that. He is keeping Clara available for trading because he wants to have an ace up his sleeve in case anything should happen to Alquin, for Chief Oakes will not release the boys until the jail doors close on Alquin.

THE MOVIES

TONY VS. MORVICH

A similarity in the lives of Morvich, the great race horse, and of Tony, the famous horse owned by Tom Mix, the Fox star, who has been starred in his own right in a new Mix picture known as "Just Tony," which comes to the Lyric theatre, beginning tomorrow. It will be remembered that when Morvich was a colt he was regarded as the most disappointing piece of horseflesh ever foaled. But the whole world knows that despite bad names Morvich became a world's champion.

So it was with Tony. Poor little Tony seemed to be of no particular color and of no particular good in the world. But one day Pat Chrisman, pal of Tom Mix, was scouting for new horses to add to the Mix ranch. He saw Tony and marvelled at the intelligence of the little fellow, who followed Pat around like a dog, took apples and sugar out of his pocket and untied knots with his teeth. Tom bought Tony and became not only his owner, but his idol. He trained the pony himself, with the assistance of Chrisman, and now Tony is the most famous horse in pictures and is loved by all Tom's great following of fans. Only recently Tony was posed as the model for bronze statue symbolizing the early West.

TO DISCUSS CAR SHORTAGE
CINCINNATI, O., February 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Superintendents of railway freight transportation in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia, were to hold a meeting here today to discuss the car shortage and endeavor to solve the problem in the section they represent. John A. Morris, Cincinnati, district manager of the car service division of the American Railway Association, issued the call for the meeting.

Serious Charge Made Following
Death Of Bloom Twp. Resident

Following the filing of an affidavit by Mrs. Myrtle Stiles against O. M. Stephens of Bloom township charging that Stephens furnished moonshine liquor to William Stiles, her brother-in-law who died last Thursday, Sheriff Harry Dunham and Deputy Carl Schneider visited Hill road Hollow, two miles this side of South Webster Monday and took Stephens into custody.

According to Mrs. Stiles' story, to Sheriff Dunham the moonshine furnished her brother-in-law during his illness was poisonous and she charges it resulted in his death several days after he drank it. Dr. A. G. Stevens of South Webster who attended Stiles says that Stiles' case appeared to be one of alcoholic poisoning, the patient becoming partially blind several days before his death. According to Dr. Stevens the injury to the eyesight was probably due to wood alcohol in the moonshine which relatives claim was obtained from Stephens.

On his arrival at the jail here Monday afternoon Stephens engaged Attorney T. C. Beatty, who soon secured his release on a $500 bond, Stephens promising to appear in Squire George Morgan's court Friday afternoon at one o'clock to make formal answer to the charge filed against him. According to Sheriff Dunham, Stephens claims that he has never handled any moonshine liquor and that the charge filed against him is the result of personal troubles between the Stiles and Stephens families.

Stiles was well known in South Webster and Bloom township. Stephens has lived near Webster for sometime and is also well known in that section.

Attorney E. G. Miller for the complainant indicated that the case will be tried again. Attorneys Harry Ball and Judge Blair appeared for the accused.

Ordered To Lancaster

Lowell Hurst, 17-year-old youth of near Wheelersburg, who was arrested last week by the police for stealing from local boarding houses, and who gave an assumed name, but changed his mind when Judge Gilliland accused him of hiding his real identity and told him he was, was ordered recommitted to the Lancaster Industrial School yesterday.

Judge Gilliland, in committing the boy, pointed out the folly of his actions, and of his attempting to give an assumed name, and urged him to make the most of the training he will receive in Lancaster and become a useful citizen.

Husband Files Answer

King Horstley, who was made defendant in a suit filed recently by his wife, Myrtle Horstley, seeking divorce, filed his answer in Common Pleas Court yesterday, denying the accusations set forth by his wife, and setting forth that they were married April 15, 1921, and not 1920, as alleged in the wife's petition.

Fyffe Released

Henry Fyffe, 40, Jefferson township farmer, who has been in jail since last October awaiting trial under an indictment charging incest, was ordered released from custody by Judge Thomas Monday on his own recognizance. It was indicated that the evidence against Fyffe in possession of the state was not sufficiently strong to warrant going to trial this time and the court was moved to release the accused in order that he might go home and take care of his almost destitute family of wife and seven children. Fyffe was ill during the greater part of his incarceration in jail with a form of mental trouble attributed to a leaden bullet which he has carried in his head for several years.

Sent To Delaware

Grace Burchett, 15-year-old daughter of William Burchett was found guilty of delinquency in probate court Tuesday and was ordered taken to the Girls Industrial Home in Delaware. She was accused of incorrigibility by Miss Emma Hubert of the Bureau of Community Service.

Sent To Jail

Charles Johnson of this city in probate court Tuesday drew a ten day's jail sentence from Judge Gilliland for refusing to send his children to school.

Partially Healed

Edna Shingler was the name given by a 14-year-old girl arrested here last night on a charge of delinquency which was filed by Miss Emma Hubert of the Bureau of Community Service. The girl gave Pittsburgh as her home. Her case was partially heard in probate court Tuesday and continued till Friday.

Famous Old Recipe
for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. Mithoefer Found Guilty

COLUMBUS, O., February 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Charles Mithoefer, of Cincinnati, last of the bandit gang which killed Patrolman Granison P. Koehler here last November, to be tried, today was found guilty of murder in the first degree with a recommendation for mercy by a jury in common pleas court. The verdict carries life imprisonment.

The jury deliberated for 15 hours. One woman and two men are said to have held out for mercy, finally winning over the nine other jurors who from the first wanted to vote the death penalty.

THE BEST GAS AND COAL RANGE EVER BUILT

Separate Ovens For Coal and Gas
No Dampers--No Special Flues
Anyone Can Operate It

Constructed on the only correct principle — separate ovens for gas and coal, with the large gas oven in the most convenient place and with the top oven heated by direct draft from the coal and wood fire box. A new combination of two of the oldest and most successful principles of construction known to the stove industry.

PATENT APPLIED FOR

So successful is this new construction that it is being protected by patent to prevent other manufacturers from adopting it. The remarkably small amount of fuel required to operate this range at full capacity cannot be equalled by any other range made. Has cooking capacity to feed twenty persons, but takes less space in the kitchen than the smallest cabinet gas range.

A REMARKABLE RANGE SURE TO OPERATE

Beautiful White Porcelain
--Always Ready--

Costs no more than an ordinary gas range but made of highest quality and durable construction. Always ready in case of gas shortage, also provides place to burn up rubbish. Extra large cooking top. Two large baking ovens, large broiling oven. The top also makes fine warming closet when not needed for baking.

$95.00 White Porcelain Finish

$70.00 For Semi Porcelain Finish

This type of range is never sold in retail stores for less than $150.00 to $200.00. You can save money by buying an Equity. We guarantee it.

Be sure to see this range at the factory or the following stores: Youngman Sales Co., 826 Gallia; Burkhardt Plumbing Co., New Boston.

Gas ranges, all kinds $18.00 to $67.50.

Preservation Of Conditions On Railroads Assured For Another Year By Board

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 6.—(By The Associated Press) — Preservation of existing wage rates and working rules for train, yard and engine service employees on all the railways of the country for another year was assured today by two decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

In the first decision the board postponed further action in the cases of 17 railways and nine subsidiary lines which sought reductions of wages and revision of working rules until "some date subsequent to October 1, 1923."

Two fireman cases postponed.

A second decision also postponed for the same period action on cases submitted on a large number of roads by the firemen's organization in which a rule was requested to compel the railways to employ two firemen on the largest engines.

Other cases filed by the employees on a large number of roads asking pay for men while away from home because of the nature of their runs, but not on duty, also were postponed until after next October.

Arguments Already Made

The board recited the fact that 95 per cent of railways—already have executed agreements which preserve for another year the wages and rules which have been in effect since July 1, 1921.

In declining to take action at this time, in the cases remaining before it, the board declared that it is "of the opinion that it would be a disturbing factor in the present railway labor situation under the circumstances to establish rates and conditions on a few roads for train, engine and yard service at variance with those prevailing on more than 95 per cent of the railway mileage of the country."

Missing Papers Returned; Incident Now Closed

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 6.—W. Albert Davis, former Director of Finance, on whom Governor Donahue recently made peremptory demand for the return of original minutes of the state emergency board and board of control, today delivered the missing records personally to the Governor. At the executive office it was said the incident now is closed.

Mr. Davis, it was said, at the Governor's office, made an explanation of why he had taken the records with him when he retired from office early in January and that no explanation was asked of him. The missing records covered the activities of the two boards from July 1, 1921 to January 22, 1922.

Governor Donahue threatened to appeal to the courts unless the records were returned. Mr. Davis in a reply by letter to the Governor's demands had stated that copies of the records were on file with the State Auditor. He then did not state whether the originals were in his possession.

Daugherty On Road To Complete Recovery

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Attorney General Daugherty who has been confined to his room for ten days under orders of Brigadier-General Charles E. Sawyer, the President's physician, is well on the way to recovery, General Sawyer declared today, and may soon be allowed to go out.

The Attorney General's condition has never been serious, the President's physician said, although a breakdown was feared because of his strenuous work in the Department of Justice during the last eighteen months. Mr. Daugherty has been suffering from high blood pressure, but today it had been reduced nearly to normal, General Sawyer stated adding that since the Attorney General's condition was normal otherwise and he had been "a good patient," he needed only several weeks of rest to assure complete recovery.

Plead "Not Guilty" Of Serious Charge

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 6.—Pleas of not guilty were entered today in United States District Court by Samuel and Hyman Blackschleger, and their father Abraham, who were indicted earlier in the day by the federal grand jury in his final report to Judge John W. Peck.

The three men, who are charged with conspiracy to violate bankruptcy laws were released on $1,000 bond and their date for trial set for February 13. Samuel, in addition, is charged with having sent false financial statements through the mail.

Samuel Blackschleger, who is proprietor of the American Skirt and Suit Company, was recently made a defendant in a bankruptcy suit in which he filed schedules listing liabilities as $100,000 and assets at $3,000.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister. Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia), 35c and 50c jars and tubes.

Piketon Boys Back From Long Trip; Motored To Many Points In The West

PIKETON, Feb. 6.—Weary from travel, but glad to be back among home folks again, Earl Silcott and Myron Patterson arrived at Piketon, recently from which place they started in company with George Leist Jr., also of this place, last June, on a trip that took them from Piketon to San Pedro, Calif., by automobile, and from San Pedro to Port Ludlow on the Puget Sound, and from Port Ludlow back down the Pacific Coast, through the Panama Canal, and up the Atlantic Coast to New York City on the S. S. Harry Luckenbach. Before making the trip from San Pedro to New York, Patterson and Leist made one trip to the Hawaiian Islands on the S. S. City of Los Angeles. Leist, who came home about two months before the other boys, made the trip from San Pedro to New York on the S. S. Walter, which was rammed by a Standard Oil boat a short time before he secured employment on the boat. The boys started from Piketon in a Ford touring car, which belonged to Silcott, on the 20th day of June, 1922, and motored to Albuquerque, New Mexico, where they were employed for a short time in the lumber camps of the Breece Lumber Co., which are located in the mountains near Albuquerque. On the first of August they left Albuquerque and headed westward, passing through Flagstaff, Arizona, then south through the Black Canyon to Phoenix, Arizona. After leaving Phoenix the route passed through the Arizona Desert and the sand hills of Old Mexico. This part of the trip was extremely perilous as the road through the desert is not very well defined and in addition to the dangers of becoming lost, the boys experienced quite a little discomfort from the intense heat, the thermometer registering as high as 140 degrees in some places during the heat of the day. The boys then came back into Arizona and crossed the Colorado River at Yuma. Leaving Yuma they headed northwest through the waste lands of southern California, passing the Salton Sea which is 137 feet below the sea level. The route then led through the Imperial Valley into the San Bernardino Mountains, through the orange groves south of Redlands on to Los Angeles, California. After a short rest at Los Angeles they motored to San Pedro which is about 14 miles from Los Angeles. They were successful in securing employment in the ship yards at San Pedro. After working at the ship yards for some time,

Protest Against New Slaughter House

The meeting of the City Health Board scheduled for yesterday afternoon was not held for lack of a quorum, only two members, J. J. Orlett and Dr. Ira Martin showing up for the session. Another effort will be made to get the board together later in the week. A petition signed by F. W. Allard and eighty other property owners protesting against the proposed slaughter house and stock yard which Dr. Hunt is planning to establish on the premises at the south-west corner of Lincoln street and Robinson Avenue, was filed with Clerk John W. Berndt. The petitioners object to the proposed slaughter house on the ground that it would be detrimental to the health, comfort and happiness of the citizens living in the vicinity and declare that its maintenance would be such as to amount to a nuisance in a residential district and they urge the board to take immediate action in order to prevent the establishment of the business there. Mr. Hunt has been requested to be present at the next meeting of the board to discuss the proposition.

Elect Auto Directors Next Monday

The polls closed in the primary election for new directors for the Portsmouth Automobile Club at six o'clock Monday evening. The eight members receiving the highest number of votes were: L. W. Bragdon, F. C. Fuller, P. H. Harsha, B. H. Dillon, E. T. Pursell, Ralph Calvert, Raymond York and Chas. D. Scudder.

Opera Co. Pleases

A program of music that won instant approval from a large audience was presented in the high school auditorium Monday night by Mary Adel Hays and her Grand Opera Singers who appeared here as one of the attractions on the high school lecture course. Miss Hays is a noted American coloratura soprano and with her opera singers presented costumed excerpts from both light and grand opera as well as many ballad selections and concert classics. The second part of the program was given over to a presentation of the second act of the opera "Martha."

New Degree Team

Eight new applications and two applications for reinstatement were received at the weekly meeting of White Rose Council Degree of Pochontas last night when they met in Red Men's hall. A new degree team was organized with Henderson Cottle as captain. It will put on degree work at a big class initiation, February 10th.

Plans were also made for a Valentine social to be held next Monday night at the regular meeting. Every member is to be on the social committee.

He Had The Flu

W. E. Dole, a resident of Oak Hill, who formerly resided in Portsmouth, sends The Times the following timely "poem" on the popular malady, flu: I have been ill I am telling you. Think I had the blamed old flu. Where I got it I can't say. Called the Doctor in one day. He looked wise and made some pills. Not one of them would fit my ills. My fever rose from head to toes. You may laugh at what I say, Flu always goes the opposite way. Then symptoms he did ask of me.

I answered back with twenty-three. Then all at once I began to sneeze. In my chest I had a wheeze. My face was hot, a running nose. My legs did ache. I had cold toes. My pulse was fast, my chest was sore. To this I could have added more. In some strange way I did get well. But what cured me I can not tell. This advice I give to you. If perchance you get the flu: Just go to bed and keep your head. If this rule you violate, You may pass the pearly gate.

Lutheran Church Plans For Home

Shows meeting at the regular meeting of the Lutheran church on Sunday night at the public library, the first real step was taken toward the securing of a church home. A canvass for subscriptions to a building fund was started Sunday and it is the hope of the congregation to have a church of their own in the very near future. All those interested are urged to assist the new congregation by subscribing to the fund. The present plan is to buy a site and erect a small frame chapel to meet the needs of the present congregation. Later a larger and more permanent house of worship could be erected. Any person not connected with any other church organization is invited to join this growing church, organized less than a year ago.

A. W. Apple, Gallia street, or any member of the congregation, can supply subscription cards.

Daniels Murder Trial Opens; Nearly 100 Witnesses Will Testify

(Bulletin)
At the afternoon session Mrs. Lydia C. Compton, widow of the slain man, who claimed to be the only eye witness to the fatal shooting, was called to the stand. She says that after Daniels had struck her husband several times, Compton drew his gun and fired twice, each bullet lodging in Daniels' body. She testified that the third shot rang out while the men were grappling on the ground, having fought their way from the barn, where the trouble started, to the road. Mrs. Compton now resides at Rose Hill, Ohio.

The trial of Bud Daniels, former Mt. Joy merchant, charged with second degree murder for the killing of James H. Compton at Mt. Joy last October, got under way before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Tuesday morning.

Little time was consumed in selecting the jury and the taking of evidence on behalf of the prosecution started before court adjourned for the noon recess. The jury, which was accepted by both sides, and is hearing the case, is composed of the following: Carl G. Vannatter, Philip Zoeller, Joseph Belcher, George M. Reitz, Theo. Bauer, Frank Barney, W. S. Sellards, W. L. Baker, Frank Bauer, Charles Stricklette, Charles May and E. A. Steadman.

Gives Brief Outline
In preliminary statements to the jury opposing counsel made known their claims in respect to the case. Prosecutor Skelton giving a brief outline of what the state expected the evidence to show, declaring that the proof would show that Daniels entered Compton's barn on the day in question and violently assaulted Compton and that the latter, to protect himself, shot his assailant twice, which was followed by Daniels' gaining possession of the same weapon, firing two shots into Compton's body, which resulted in the latter's death.

Defense Claims Justification
Attorney B. F. Kimble stated that it was the contention of the defense that whatever the accused did he was justified in his own proper self-defense, contending that the evidence would show that Daniels at no time was in the Compton barn, that the encounter took place in the public road in front of the barn. He further stated that trouble and ill-feeling between the men dated back several months and of threats claimed to have been made by Compton against the defendant, on one occasion when the two men were in a magistrate's court at Garden to settle a dispute over a hen, which was awarded to Daniels. He referred to Compton penning up one of Daniels' pigs and writing him a note that he could get the pig by paying the damage, to which Daniels replied that he would let the law settle it. Attorney Kimble claimed that there was no altercation over the pig, but that Compton opened fire upon Daniels as he was passing down the public road and that in the scuffle which ensued over the gun the weapon was discharged a third time.

Two Before Noon Recess
But two witnesses were called to the stand before the noon recess. Leroy Compton, photographer, identified photographs taken by him showing the scene of the tragedy and the premises surrounding it, while Virgil E. Fowler, was called to identify X-ray photographs showing the wounds sustained by Compton and which caused his death. The photographs were taken the day following the shooting and before Compton died in Hempstead hospital.

A plat purporting to show the location of the buildings, roads and premises at the scene of the shooting was exhibited to the jury by Attorney B. F. Kimble, but on the objection of Prosecutor and Judge Blair for the state, it was ruled out.

A big array of witnesses, nearly one hundred, including many prominent citizens of the Mt. Joy and Garden vicinity, were present in court to testify for and against the accused.

Taken To Hospital
Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Jones of Blue Creek, Adams county, were taken to the Good Samaritan hospital in Cincinnati Monday. Both suffered attacks of influenza and since recovering Mrs. Jones developed diabetes and Mr. Jones is suffering with an abscess in his side. Mr. Jones is a well known merchant of Blue Creek.

Postmaster Harold Turns Reins Over To His Successor; Tells How Postal Receipts Increased

After eight years and eight months of service as postmaster, Vallee Harold is succeeded by W. H. Harshbarger. Perhaps, the tremendous growth of Portsmouth is nowhere else so strikingly reflected as in the increase of local postal business during Mr. Harold's term.

The first year thereof, the total receipts were $77,245.00. The last year exceeded $150,000. Almost every month there was a gain over the corresponding month of the previous year and this last January they were $15,678.05 as compared with the puny sum of $6,551.97 in January, 1915. Mr. Harold officially swore the parcel post service in its infancy. Then three or four hundred parcels a week was considered a big run, now a thousand a day is considered small business. In 1914 money orders numbered 35,337, in 1922, 58,103; while registered letters compared respectively 6,437 to 20,590.

But in this period postal business has not only enlarged along the old lines, the work imposed has been largely added to and savings stamps, internal revenue stamps, which along with money orders are not included as receipts, of the office, though running far into the hundreds of thousands — one year over a million dollars of war savings stamps were sold — parcels post insurance and C. O. D.'s are new lines. More hands are required, of course, to handle this enlargement and the number of clerks is now 23 as against 12 at the start and carriers 22 as against 17.

The postoffice building has been twice enlarged and even now it is far too small though close on to $100,000 has been spent to make it more suitable.

Incidentally Ex-Postmaster Harold burned up an even dollar, not counting interest, in less than half an hour, today. The material for the configuration was supplied by a Hanna cigar. That cigar had a history. It was one of a box of fifty, costing just that many dollars, which was given to Senator Hanna about ten years ago, who in turn gave it to Elmer Dorer, who was then his private secretary. Mr. Dorer distributed them among his Portsmouth friends. Mr. Harold being one of the fortunate ones. He says he has kept it all these years to smoke on some proper occasion and to his mind there was no better time for celebrating it than when he left the postoffice and returned to The Times.

Selling Elevators

A. Grinker, local representative of the Otis Elevator Company, Cincinnati, has closed contracts for the installation of a freight elevator in the W. L. Ward Lumber Company's plant at Ironton and for a passenger elevator in Marting Bros.' new addition here.

Farmers' Institute Will Be Held In Empire Grange Hall This Week

Empire Grange hall, four miles east of Wheelersburg is the place set for the annual Farmers' Institute to be held Friday and Saturday for the farmers of the Pine Creek, Powellsville and Wheelersburg communities. Sessions will be held Friday morning, afternoon and evening and Saturday morning and afternoon. The main speakers will be C. R. Wagner of Arlington, Hancock county, Mrs. Gladys Chambers, home economics expert of Columbus, and County Agent W. F. Gahm.

MASONS URGED TO ATTEND RECITAL

Judging from the interest that has been created in the entertainment to be given by the Scottish Rite Club of this city to all Masons, their families and sweethearts at Trinity Methodist church tomorrow evening, the spacious church building will be completely filled. The entertainment which is given complimentary by the Scottish Rite Club, will, without a question be one of the highest class affairs ever held in this city, and all who are eligible to attend are looking forward to an evening of rare enjoyment. The local club has secured the services of Mr. John Hersh, a Cincinnati basso who has an exceedingly rich voice and regarded as one of the premier soloists of the Queen City. He will be accompanied by Mr. Henry C. Leber, no less famed as a pianist. The entertainment will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock. The Scottish Rite Club will be disappointed if a single Mason and his family misses the recital which is guaranteed to be one of high merit.

DISCUSS NEW WHEELERSBURG SCHOOL

A representative number of citizens attended the public meeting held in the Wheelersburg high school auditorium Monday night when the board secured the opinions of school patrons on the erection of a new grade school building in Wheelersburg to replace the four room building condemned by a state inspector.

There was no objection raised to the building of a new structure, it being the opinion of all that something must be done to take care of the school pupils. While some suggested an eight room building the majority spoke in favor of ten or twelve rooms adding it should be constructed with a view to the future.

The board will now discuss the various sizes of buildings and will no doubt soon issue bonds to provide funds for the erection of a modern grade building. The board already has a site. County Superintendent E. O. McCovey presided as chairman.

On The Mend
Marcella McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McDaniel, 905 Front street is recovering from measles.

Takes Position
Harold (Rocky) Devoss, well known ball player, has taken a position in the architectural offices of Devoss and Donaldson, First National bank building.

Outlook Good For Lucasville Bank

Plans to establish a bank in Lucasville took more definite form Monday afternoon when a meeting of those interested was held in connection with a session of the Lucasville Betterment Association. It was announced that every business firm in Lucasville was back of the bank plan 100 per cent and that no trouble was anticipated in the disposing of stock. It is the intention of those behind the movement to have a bank with a capital stock of $25,000 and a $5,000 surplus. More than $12,000 has already been pledged with many others expressing a desire to own stock when the subscription list is opened. The first step will be to publish a legal notice of the intention to start a bank and after this is run for two weeks the incorporation papers may be filed with the secretary of state. As soon as the incorporation is legalized the matter of subscribing for stock may be taken up and stock sold.

The question of location will be a matter to be disposed of by the directors of the new organization. While some are of the opinion that one of several present buildings could be revamped and made into suitable quarters for a bank others believe that a new structure would be best.

To Complete Arrangements For Dollar Day

It is hoped that every member of the Merchants Retail Association will be present at the special meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce building, tomorrow morning, at nine o'clock, when arrangements will be completed for the holding of a Dollar Day in this city.

It is understood that the various committees appointed recently by Chairman Samuel Hershaw are ready to report, and there seems to be no question but this big mercantile event will be booked to take place in Portsmouth early in March. It is said that chairman of one of the committees has a plan that will no doubt result in the conversion of every member for such a day. Chairman Hershaw expressed the wish Tuesday that every member be present promptly on time and he could definitely promise the session would not last to exceed an hour.

Criterion Company Elects

Directors of the Criterion Clothing company at a meeting last night re-elected the following officers: Joseph L. Koutz, president; J. H. Varner, vice president; P. W. Newland, secretary and treasurer.

These officers with Mrs. J. H. Varner, Miss Nellie Wolfe and W. H. Bart complete the board of directors. Miss Wolfe, bookkeeper of the firm is the new director.

All Breed Dog Show To Be Held In Huntington

The first All Breed Dog show ever held in West Virginia will be put on in Huntington, March 13th, 14th and 15th, under an American Kennel club license. The Tri-State Kennel club is staging this show and the membership is made up of citizens of Huntington, Portsmouth, Charleston, Ashland, other towns of the Tri-State region who admire a good dog. This show is not a money making proposition. The promoters are spending all the money necessary to make this a real show worthy of the Tri-State region and are hoping they will not lose money.

Governor Morgan of West Virginia is offering a cup and the promoters have the support of some of the biggest men in this region.

"All Bigelow Night"

All members are cordially invited to the All Bigelow Night services, Wednesday evening. As usual the Jr. Choir rehearsals will take place at 5 o'clock and also the Bible Class Study. At 5:30 the officers and teachers of the Sunday school will have their weekly meeting and promptly at 6 o'clock a delicious supper will be served for 25 cents. After the supper at 6:45 the Praise and Worship Service led by Dr. C. E. Chandler, will take place.

Following this, at about 8 o'clock in the church auditorium a treat is in store for Trinity Church members as well as Bigelow members. The occasion is the coming of a friend of Trinity's pastor, in the person of Mr. Hugh Porter, of Chicago and Evansville, Ill., who is a remarkable pipe organist.

Mr. Porter is a young man in Seminary studying for the ministry, but his work also includes an exhaustive study of the Organ. He has played with the great artists of the country, including accompaniments for Mme. Schuman-Heink. A free will offering will be received. Seats will be reserved for those coming after the praise service.

The local army recruiting office is in the post office building.

New Boston To Fight For Cheaper Gas Rates

New Boston Council Monday night ordered Village Solicitor J. Alden Staker to carry the fight for cheaper gas rate to the Supreme court. This action was taken after he reported that the Public Utilities Commission had overruled his petition asking for a rehearing of the case of the United Fuel Gas company vs the Village of New Boston in the matter of rates for domestic gas. The Gas company is charging a 45 cent per thousand rate while the village has an ordinance calling for a 35 cent per thousand rate. The Public Utilities Commission recently decided in favor of the Gas company and the village is seeking relief from that decision in the Supreme court.

The 1922 report of the Portsmouth Street Railway Company filed with Council according to agreement entered into when the six cent fare ordinance was adopted was received and ordered tabled until the next meeting when the members hope to go into the request more fully. The company is to file a report of its financial affairs each year so that the rate may be fixed for the ensuing year. The company is asking for the right to continue the six cent fare.

Council agreed with Member John Dayton that a police patrol was needed and the solicitor was ordered to bring in legislation authorizing the purchase of a motor truck for the use of the service and safety department but as there is no money available at this time for such a purchase the matter was laid aside for several months.

The bid of John Grimes submitted for the laying of several hundred feet of water pipe and the installation of two fire hydrants was reported as $322.80 by Clerk Russell Mithlaugh. Council rejected the bid the only one received on the ground that it was too high. The clerk was instructed to obtain price figures on pipe and fire hydrants so that a proper estimate of the cost of the work may be ascertained.

An ordinance providing for amendments to the traffic laws of the village relative to machines following the fire trucks and the parking of cars in alleys was given its second reading.

A resolution providing for the revaluation of lots 42 and 43 in Highland addition for assessment purposes was given its second reading.

An ordinance was read for the first time which proposed that all owners of property used for building purposes should keep the same in sanitary condition.

A petition from property owners along Milldale Road asking for improvement of this road was referred to the street committee. A request from James Sloan asking for reimbursement for damages to his automobile caused by running over a section of Gallia street needing repair was referred to the law and claims committee.

A petition asking council to make improvements in the alley running north and south between Center and Park Avenues from Gallia to Rhoades Avenue was presented and tabled.

Member W. L. Davis reported he had seen the officials of the Whitaker-Glossner Co. and had been told that the company would furnish slag free to the village for improvement purposes on streets provided that council will would pay the cost of hauling. Ernest Stratton was hired to haul one hundred yards of the slag at the rate of 50 cents per yard.

Members discussed for some time the matter of proceeding with the permanent improvement of alleys, with the result that the solicitor was ordered to bring in legislation establishing grades in various alleys.

M. T. Stewart, of Harrisonville Avenue, was present at the meeting and asked that the village make some improvement on the sewer running under his property which he said was overflowing and causing damage. His petition was referred to the sewer committee.

The financial report of the clerk and treasurer for 1922 was read, accepted, and ordered filed.

FAIR BOARD WILL MEET

A meeting of the Seoto County Fair Board will be held at the office of the Seoto County Farm Bureau, room 310 Masoude Temple Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

SOCIETY

Thirteen members and two guests attended the meeting of the Whatsoever Guild of All Saints' church Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Carl Doerr, 636 Third street. An interesting feature of the evening was the talk given by Mrs. Lila Johnson, matron of the Hopedale Rescue Home, 1024 Kendall avenue. Mrs. Emil Doerr was also a guest for the evening. Before adjournment the hostess served a dainty refreshment course.

Joyce Anne is the name of the sweet little daughter, born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene G. Wutster of Baird avenue.

Marcella McDaniels, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McDaniels, Jr., of 905 Front street, is recovering from a serious attack of measles and pneumonia.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Franklin Avenue M. E. Church will hold their bake and apron sale on Saturday afternoon at the Kay-Graham Music Store on Gallia street. Instead of at the Henry Winter Shoe Store, as previously announced. This is the first of a series of sales to be given by the society at this store.

Esther Wyckoff, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wyckoff, of 709 John street, is ill with the grip.

The Shawnee Bridge Club will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Ben Donahoe on Third street.

Miss Ida Kallio, National Field Worker and Organizer of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, will give an interesting talk at the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Franklin Avenue M. E. church Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Margaret Winter, 1125 Eighth street. The meeting will convene promptly at two o'clock and all members are urged to be present on time. The assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Henry Winter, Mrs. Mary Martin, Mrs. Nettie Brodner and Miss Rebecca Zimmerman.

The young ladies belonging to the D. T. O. and their guests enjoyed a party at the Columbia Theater Monday evening after which they were served with a luncheon at the Classic Shoppe.

Those participating other than members were: Misses Garnet Clark, Mabel Sealey, Margaret Clark, Agnes Yates, Mrs. William Dixey and Mrs. John Eckhart.

Members of the So-A-Wa club enjoyed a charming dinner at the Mary Louise last evening and later formed a theatre party at the Columbia to see Norma Talmage in the "Eternal Flame."

The members of this club include the Misses Hazel Gabel, Blanche Payne, Virginia Boyles, Dorothy Lott, Berdine Dodd, Ruth Hooper, Viola Sarver and Helen Smith.
